Hot Spots

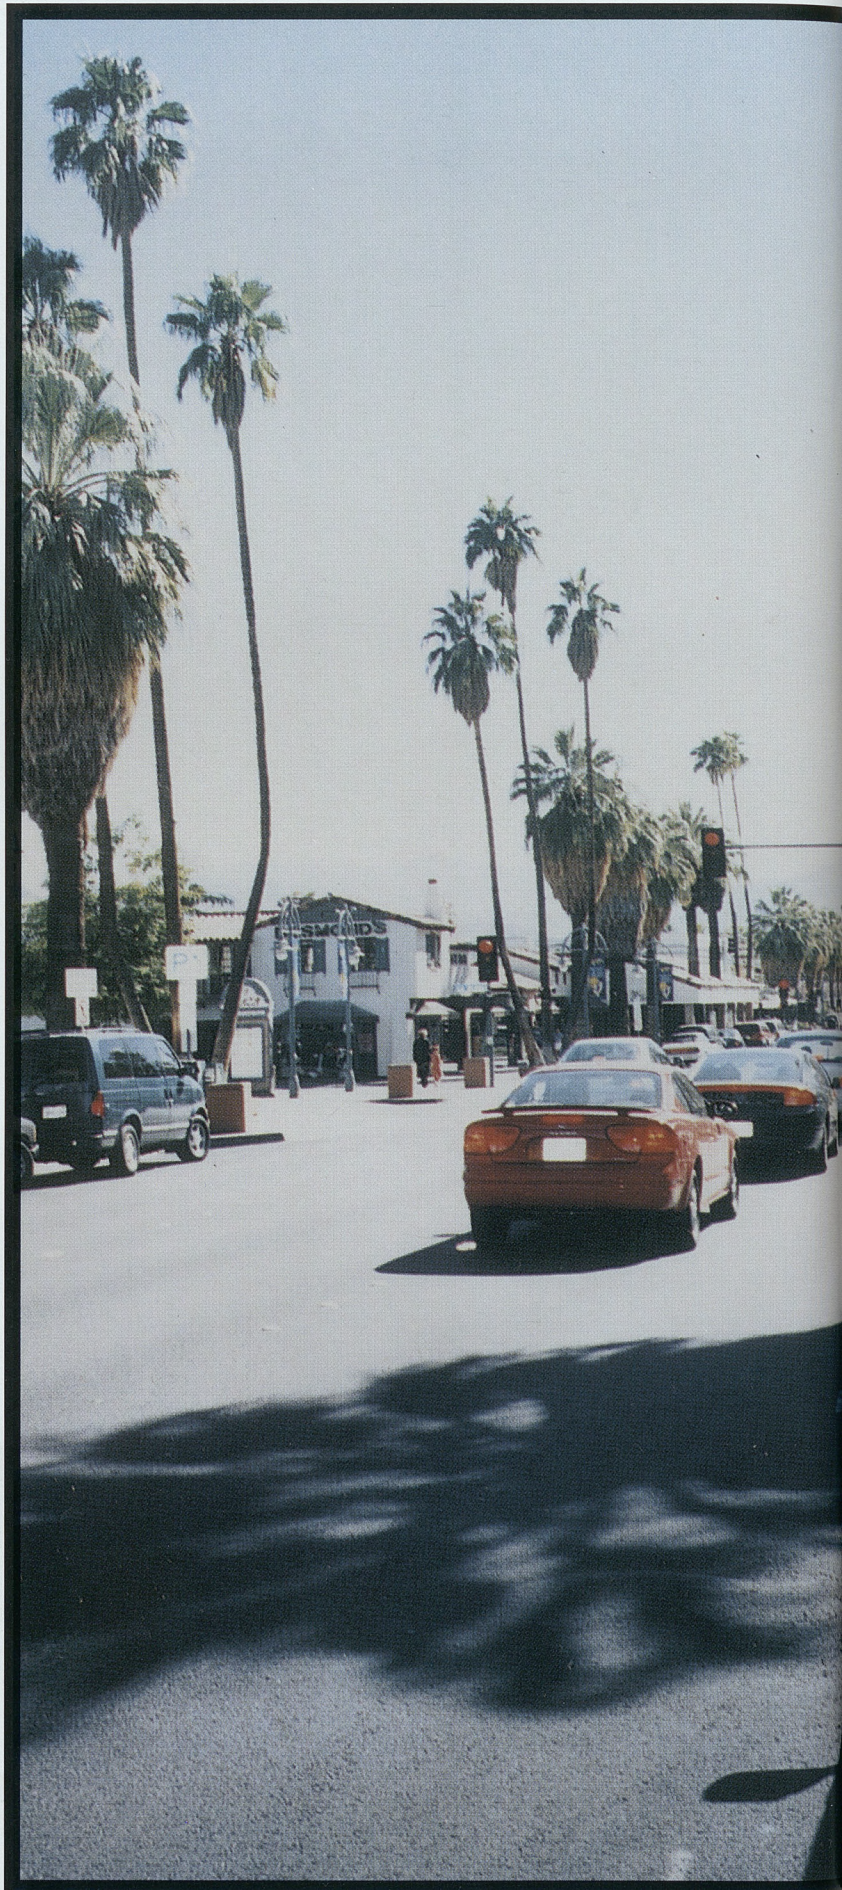

The Hottest Places To Be Seen In Palm Springs

from Gateway to Andreas Hills

Palm Springs is rich in heritage, beauty, and people. Those of us who have lived here for most of our lives (and even the few of us who haven't) have learned to love as well as hate this city we call home. We have grown accustomed to the agonizing heat of summer and the refreshing crispness of fall and spring. We have become tolerant of the tourists and the slow, sloooooow drivers. We still reminisce about the little league games, the piano lessons, and the turtles in the park. Memories are still vividly alive for all of us about this hot, hot town.

When we were young, didn't we think the coolest place to be was where all the older kids were? Now we realize what small, small minds we must have had. We kick it on the same corner as the "cool kids" we once saw when we were young. Some of us even chill at the spots where our parents did. These spots seemed so much more fun when we wished to be there; now that we are there, these spots lack that youthful excitement. We take for granted the memories we have of these tourist traps. From the street fair to Spring break, cars line bumper-to-bumper just to travel down the strip.

Whatever arguments you have about how "hot" these spots are, no one can deny that our memories rest in downtown Palm Springs.

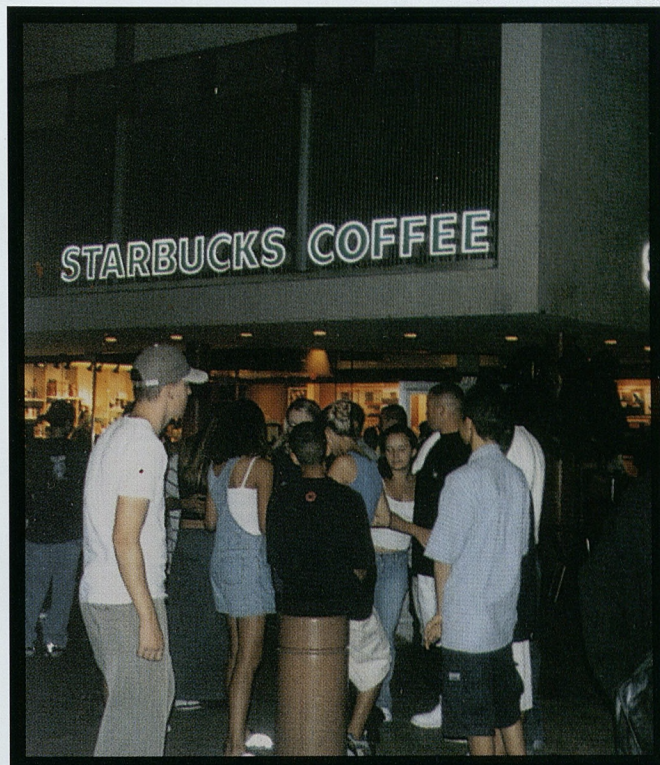

Del Scorcho

Muy caliente! Even though the food is not, Del Taco definitely seems to be, on a boring Saturday night and after Friday night football games. Where else is there to go that's open?

Hot Coffee

Street fair time does the body good. The ideal hot spot is in front of the one-and only-Starbucks, especially on those warm, sticky summer nights where the misters offer relief. Even when the street fair was moved during downtown construction, Starbucks was still the place to be.

10 Hot Places to Be

- | | |
|--------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1. Out of town | 6. Movies |
| 2. A random party | 7. Home studying (O.K.) |
| 3. Downtown | 8. The "Circles" |
| 4. A friend's house | 9. A nice restaurant |
| 5. Del Taco (eventually) | 10. Starbucks |

On a Saturday Night

Chillin'

Ahhh, air conditioning! The mall seems to be the coolest spot in town to underclassmen with nowhere to go on a hot 2-1-2 Wednesday. Everyone remembers the changing fast food spots and the only consistent store throughout the history of our mall: Gottschalks.

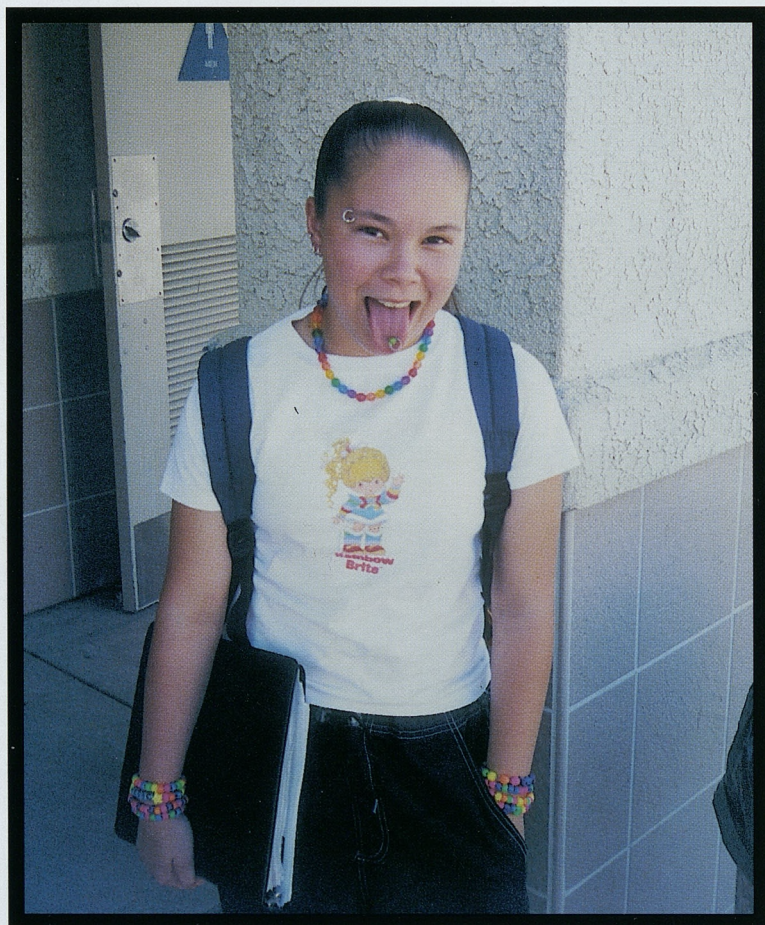

The Hot-Hot Spot

Boy, it's hot up here! The heat is definitely on at beautiful Vista Point, where lovers go to look at the majestic view and talk about marriage arrangements. Teenagers eventually end up here one way or another, to see the magnificent aerial view of the Coachella Valley.

Do you like Body Art?

82% Yes 18% No

Stud Below the Lips

A new trend that has picked up speed is the stud-below-the-bottom lip. Heather Marks (11), displays her stud right before she eats lunch.

PICTURE Perfect

At some time in young people's lives, they begin to feel the desires and passions associated with typical teen life: the need to have a relationship with a partner who they can love, cherish, and take care of. The pressures that affect modern students can often be alleviated by the warm, "picture perfect" smile of a significant other. There is something about the special people we care about--indescribable and yet universally understood. We enter into an agreement, a partnership, suspending our inhibitions and allowing ourselves to absorb the full effect of their existence. Unfortunately, for many of us, that love we feel for each other eventually diminishes to a sort of sad, hollow end, leaving us to question ourselves and our reasons for ever getting involved. But, even when a relationship does end--in a good or bad fashion--we are left stronger and smarter. Perhaps we won't make the same mistake twice.

-Gene Davis

Love Is In The Air

(Left): Being on the volleyball team, along with maintaining good grades, makes keeping up a relationship seem almost impossible, but not for Savanja Tatum (9) and her boyfriend Carlos Mora (10). Savanja and Carlos have been going out since the beginning of the school year.

It's a Small World After All...

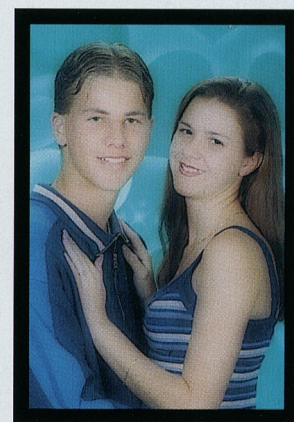

(Below): Meeting in the love capital of the world--Paris, France--Ryan Molhoeck (12) and Alexis Dagul (10) have been dating since July of '99. Brian supposedly confessed his love for Alexis on EuroDisney's "It's A Small World."

(Below): When asked the highlights of being a twin, Alexis Gaines (11), twin of Adam Gaines, says, "I have nothing to compare it to."

Best All Around

David,
Remember the time you had the runs and your dad was working on the plumbing at your house and your restrooms didn't work? So I went with you walking about 1/2 mile to "Lucky's" to use the restroom. When we got there we had to ask someone for the key to the restroom. I also remember other good times we had, thanks for being a good friend all these years I have known you.

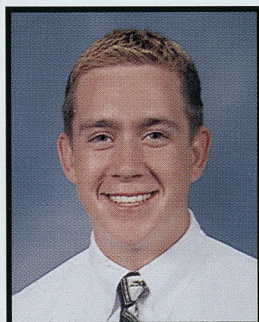

Your friend,
Julian Alvarez

Remember the times when we used to chase you around the house just to make you mad, or when we put on the Kenny G. music and "puckered up?" It was funny back then to see the naked beached whale in the pool. But no matter what we did to you, you never stopped loving your friends. You've always been there for me and I know you always will. No one deserves the title of "Best Overall" more than you do. I treasure you Kara, and oh ya, I'll tell everyone to vote for you in 20 years when you run for President of the United States. I love you to death!

Dear Adam,
You are the most unpredictable guy I know in the world. When it seems that you're mad, you're just acting. When you look happy, you're really angry. When it all boils down to it, Adam, you have to be the funniest, most arrogant guy I have ever met, and I'll keep that place in my heart, whether that means good or bad.

Love, your brother,
Matt Levy

Adam Levy

Julie,
We've had so many fun times together, especially PVR '99; and I'll never forget falling down face first together in the rain in front of everyone. I'll cherish the fun times we had together forever, and you'll always be my Costa Rican Homecoming Queen.

growing through EXPERIENCE

"My most memorable experience this season was defeating Cat City at our final game."

-Jenna Higuera, #4

"The greatest experiences I had this year were playing with a group of girls who practice hard work and determination, and having a chance to closely learn from them and build friendships."

-Tara Glass, #21

Coming into a new season with the reputation of being "The Best Team In League" or "The Team To Beat," the intensity, anticipation, and drive our volleyball team had this year was great. For the past four years, PSHS volleyball has taken the championship title, earning not only the title, but an undefeated record (40-0). The pressure was intense as league play drew near.

With an excellent captain, Kristin Bloomer, to lead our team during the victorious times and the pressured times, our team always seemed to pull it together. With all six seniors as key players and our underclassmen who do just as well, our team had so much to work with. Erin Chaney (12) and Kristin Bloomer (12) were our power middles; Holly Gardner (11), Jenna Higuera (10), Tara Glass (11), Amber Ball (10), and Cierra Teel (12) all had a great outside swing; with Jennifer Chaney (12) and Kelley Ross (12) picking up the defense; and Kara Kleindienst (12) setting up the kill; our team was unstoppable.

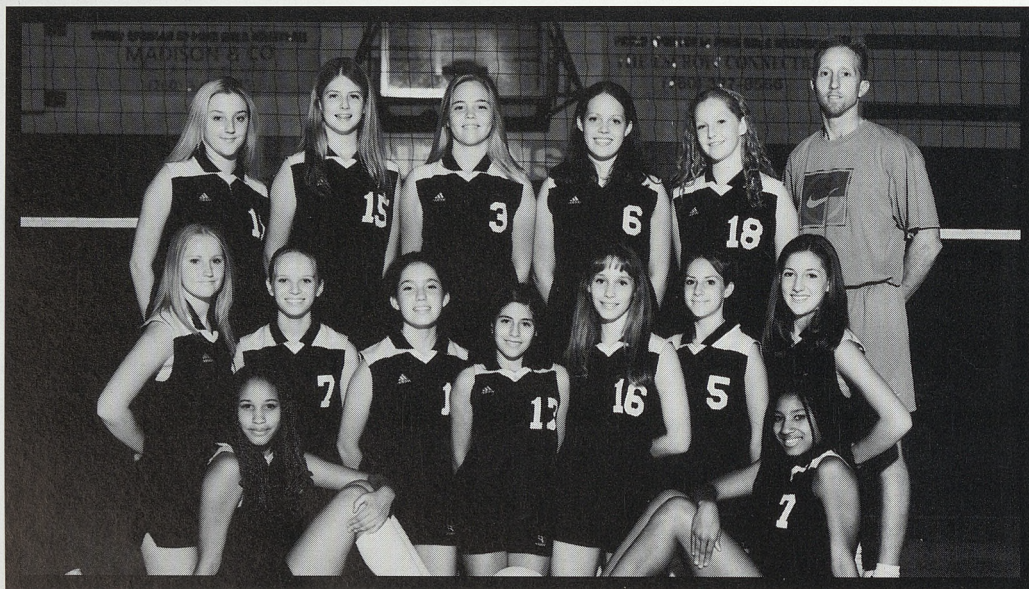

Nevertheless, we couldn't have done it without our great coaches Andy Hollinger and Robyn Hissam. We are so grateful to you both (and from the seniors, we will miss you both). We would also like to say thank you to our devoted fans—you always kept our spirits up. Good luck to our future volleyball teams- make us proud!

Track & Field

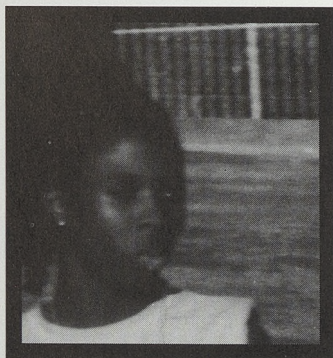

"Track is fun. It keeps you away from drugs and out of trouble."

~Olivia Frias (9)

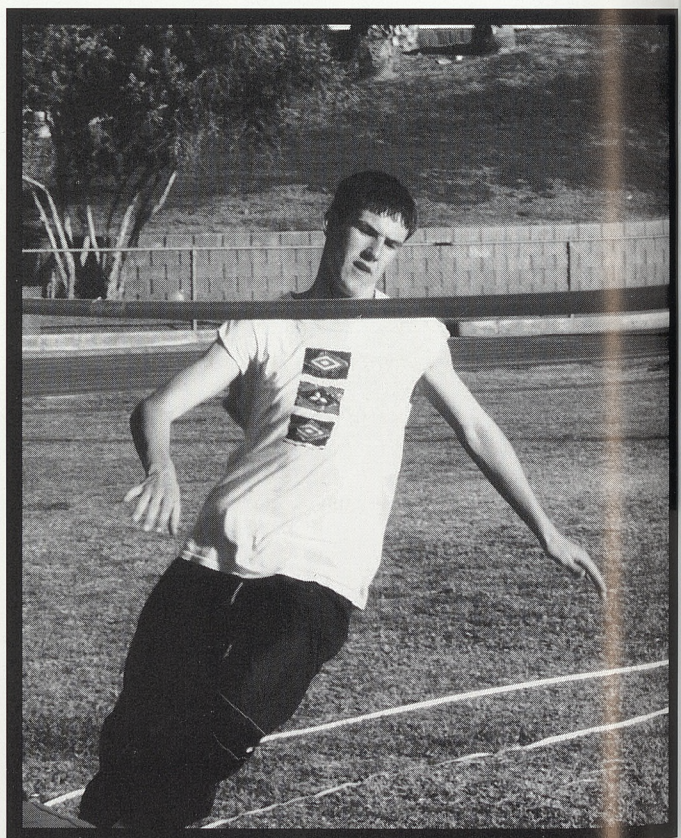

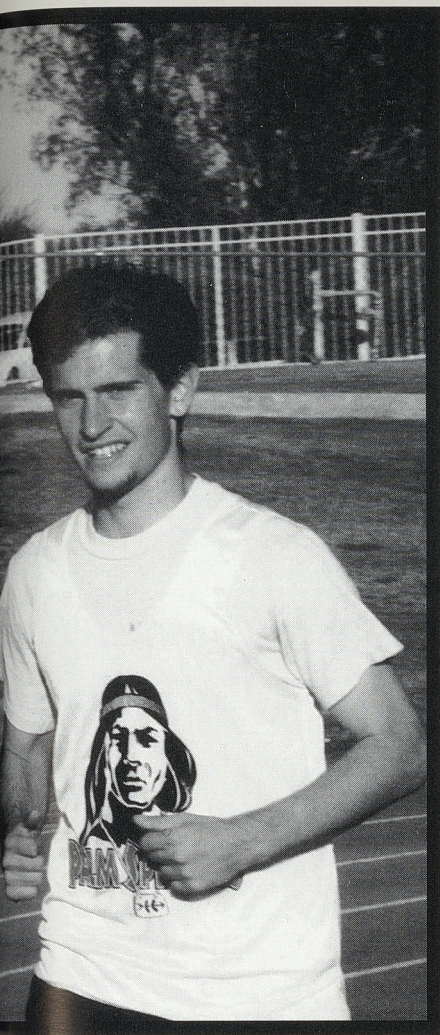

"I like the thrill of competition."

~Alisha Caldwell (10)

Jump King

With speed and height, Danny Been (12) will surely make it over the pole.

In Sync

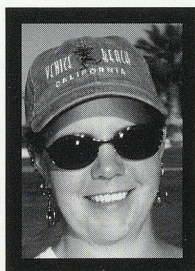

Though the sun creates a near-obstacle for sophomores Tammy Stewart and Rocky Sagginario, they show their true Indian spirit by running through it.

Why do you like being a track coach?

"I love track and field (and cross country) because they are very pure sports. The real challenge is not so much to beat someone else but to improve your own best to extend your own limits. This year we have a very young team, but they are working very well. Eventually, some of them will be excellent."

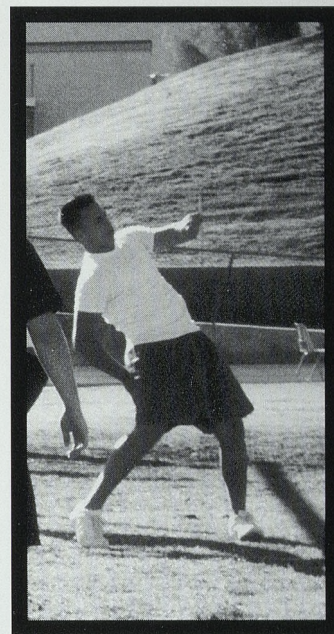

- Coach Clark

What do you enjoy most about being a track coach?

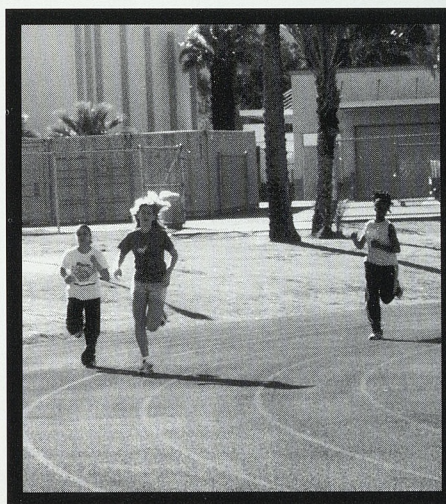

"I enjoy the fact that I am able to see athletes excel in demanding situations and push limits that they never thought existed...and the track meets are a blast!"

- Coach Hissam

Relaxation Is Key

Track is a lot of hard work. Long hours, and a lot of pushing yourself makes for plenty of hard-earned relaxation. Danielle Bush (10) and Jennifer Guerra (10) know what it is like to work hard, but they obviously know how to kick back and relax with friends.

Field Man

Most people choose to run, sprint, and jump for track and field, but Steve Garcia (11) is part of the field team.

And They're Off!

One of the challenging parts of track is running the sprints. Alisha Caldwell (10), and frosh Jana FitzGerald and Olivia Frias are on their way to the finish line so that they can stop and take a breath!

TRACK TRACK & FIELD FIELD

Like a Bird

Flying as high as a bird is Nick Landis (11). He can easily jump over this hurdle which is set to the highest possible height!

Running with Ease

For some people, running is tough; but for Lupita Lovera (9), it's just the same as walking. She glides along the track and makes it look easy, setting an example for everyone.

This year, track had to start all over again. With the loss of all of our exceptional athletes from last year, we were left with a team of mostly underclassmen, some of whom had never done track before. We had an outstanding group of seniors, whom we will miss greatly next year. Our underclassmen were forced to work to their fullest ability.. and they certainly did.

We knew from the beginning that we probably wouldn't become CIF Champs, but we did know that we had one of the hardest working teams. Everyday, we practiced for two to three hours. Of course we had obstacles: heat, injuries, illness, but we found a way to come together and work our hardest for the benefit of our own team. Our team motto really should be "If at first, you don't succeed, try, try again." That is exactly what we did. If we did not do something up to standard, the only obvious thing for us to do was to improve ourselves.

With the help of Coach Clark, Coach Hissam, and Coach Sommerville, we not only came together and worked as a team, but acheived our personal best.

-Jana FitzGerald

Follow the Leader

Matt Lee (12) and Lupita Lovera (9) follow the lead of Stephanie Perez (12). She does a great job as leader of the pack.

Flying High

Soaring easily over the high hurdles is Danny Been (12). His height and jumping ability certainly make him an accomplished hurdler.

GIMME 5 The Five Best Things About Track

1. "Working on a team, making sure everyone realizes their own abilities"- Danielle Bush (10)
2. "Track prepares you for the more challenging things in life"- Julia Ruiz (10)
3. "Trying my hardest, and being rewarded by knowing that I did good"- Elisa Lee (11)
4. "You learn how to work on a team"- Jennifer Guerra (10)
5. "You can get in shape while having fun"- Maritza Solares (9)

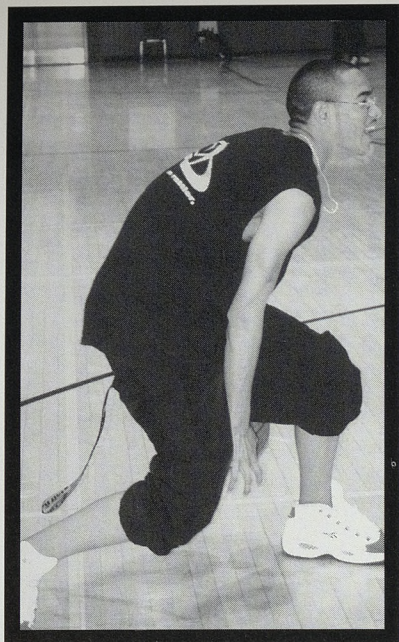

Coming to an End

Coming to the end of his run is Jesus Lora (11). He is one of the top runners at our school and is a wonderful addition to the team.

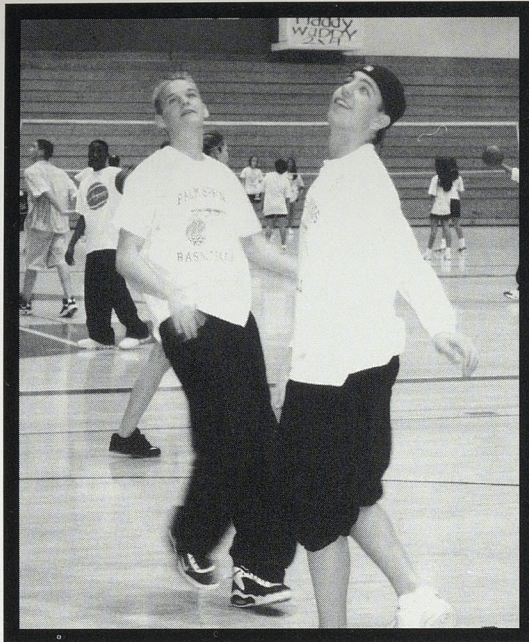

Group Effort

The effort needed for track is great, but for Lauren Johnson (9) and Elisa Lee (11), running with others makes it easy.

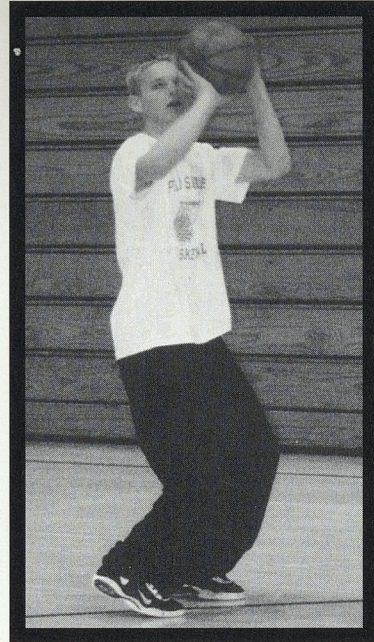

Dexterous Dribbler

Showing off his ball-handling skills at practice is Randy Rutlage (12).

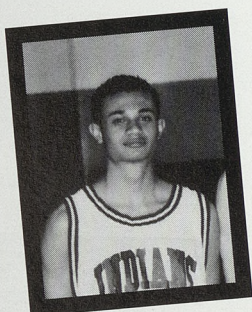

In Awe

At the top of their league, Caleb Barton (11), and Jared Otteson (9), are looked up to by most people; but in this sport, all they can do is look up for shots and rebounds.

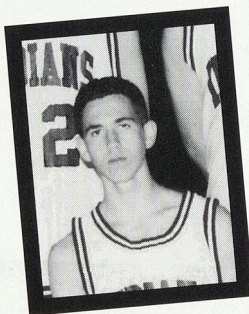

Another Three Pointer

Warming up before a game and nailing this three point shot is Caleb Barton (11).

"We had a great team this year. We had a lot of fun whether we won or lost. I was motivated to play each game hard because it is my last year. My team expects certain things from me every game, and I motivated myself to do my best."

~ Jude Chandrasena (12)

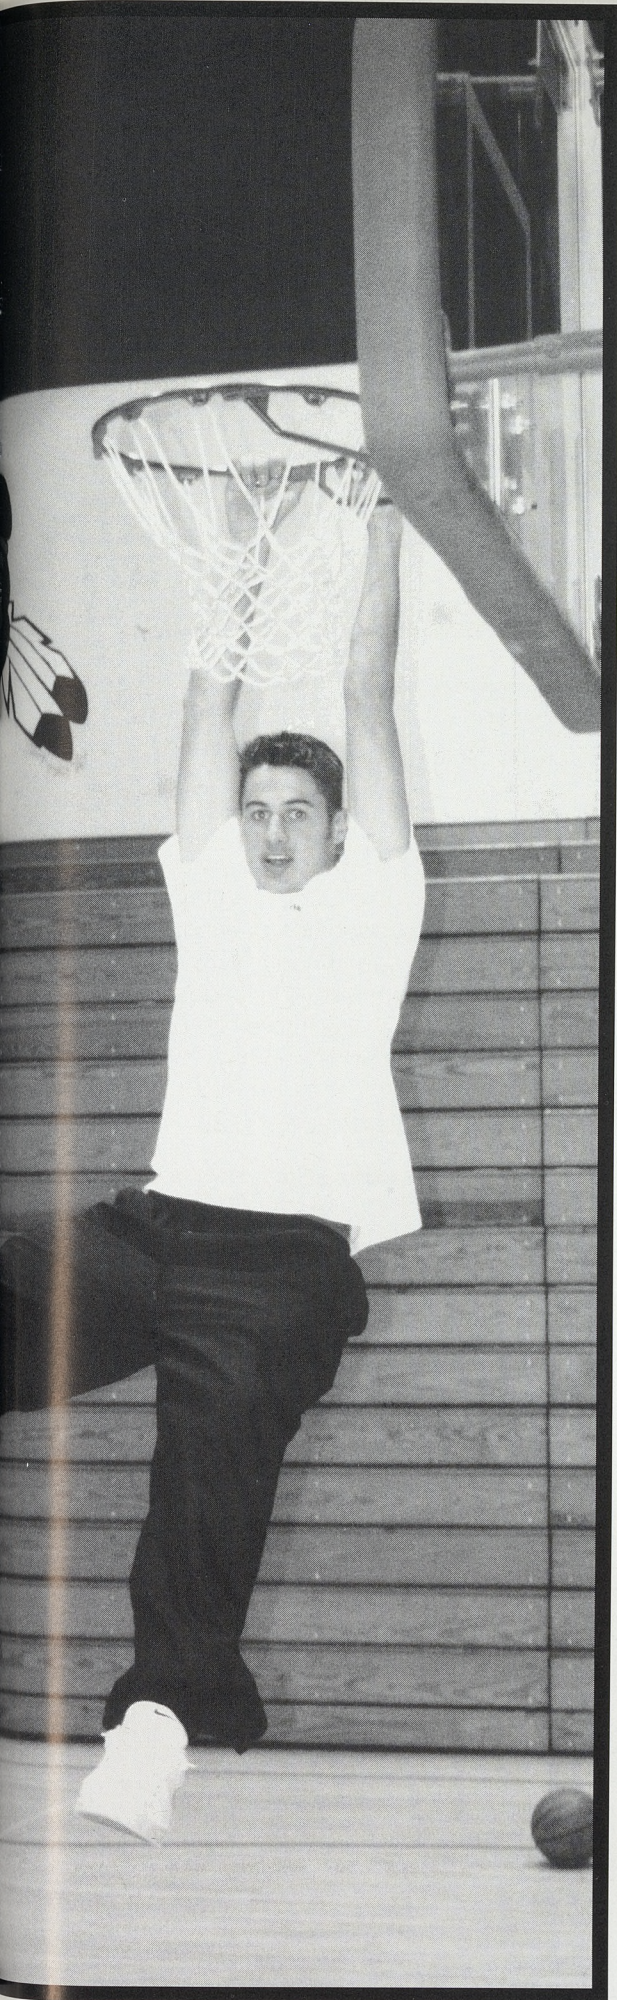

"I had lots of fun this year. It is a good experience playing against good competition; it makes me and my team better players. I wish good luck to all the future players of Palm Springs High School."

She Got Game

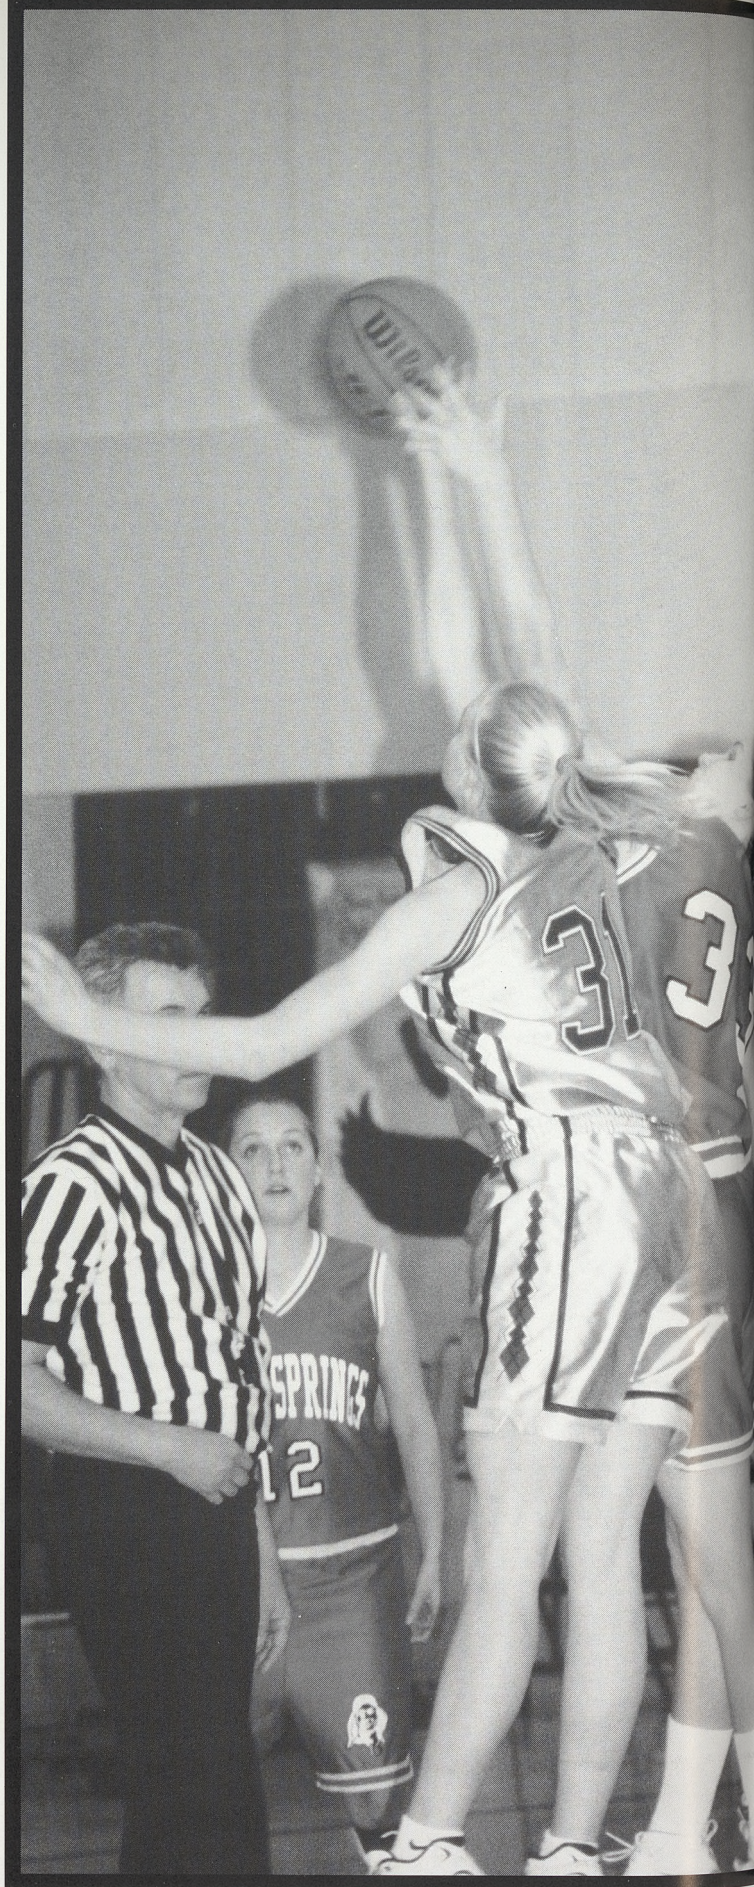

The varsity basketball team has had a new beginning. With the introduction of Coach Tatum and Coach Chaney, the lady ballers felt a new inspiration to take this program to a new level of success. The highly intense practices helped better prepare the team for the talented opponents they would face in the upcoming season.

The team consisted of three seniors (all returning): Erin Chaney, Cierra Teel, and Kara Kleindienst; two juniors: Adriana Tostado and Mary Rose; and five sophomores: Constance Dreisbach, Jenna Higuera, Amber Ball, Ashley Ball, and returner, Sandy Sills. Our team was very young and inexperienced, but that did not stop us from trying our best and playing to win.

This year was a starting point for the years to come. A program must start somewhere and it looks optimistic from here on out...we've got a chance to finally give the Indians the respect and recognition they rightfully deserve.

The Lady Indians varsity soccer team went 9-1 in league, carrying on the DVL title for the sixth consecutive year. The soccer team proved to be champs despite an early loss in league play, but came back and won nine league games. The girls fell in their first round of CIF due to "technical difficulties." This year's team had eight freshmen, one sophomore, three juniors, and five graduating seniors. Winning DVL was very rewarding because the team was so young. The varsity team went through many hard and long practices, team talks, injuries, and arguments; but through it all found a way to bond and become a team. Special thanks to Coach Oron Jackson, who provided us with training, encouragement, and support throughout the 99-2000 season. I would personally like to thank the members of the team for never giving up in the rough times of the season and for keeping their heads up. Also, for those who have helped me achieve my personal goals, I thank you. For all the soccer players I leave behind, I wish you good luck; and never let "someone" interfere with your dreams. I will miss you all!

He Ain't Heavy

Hard at work on his buddy Richard Torres (12) is Aaron Christopher (12). Shooting a double leg is a great power move to practice for a coming match. Strength and endurance are physical and mental states that a wrestler needs to win. Practicing both, Aaron gives Richard a lift.

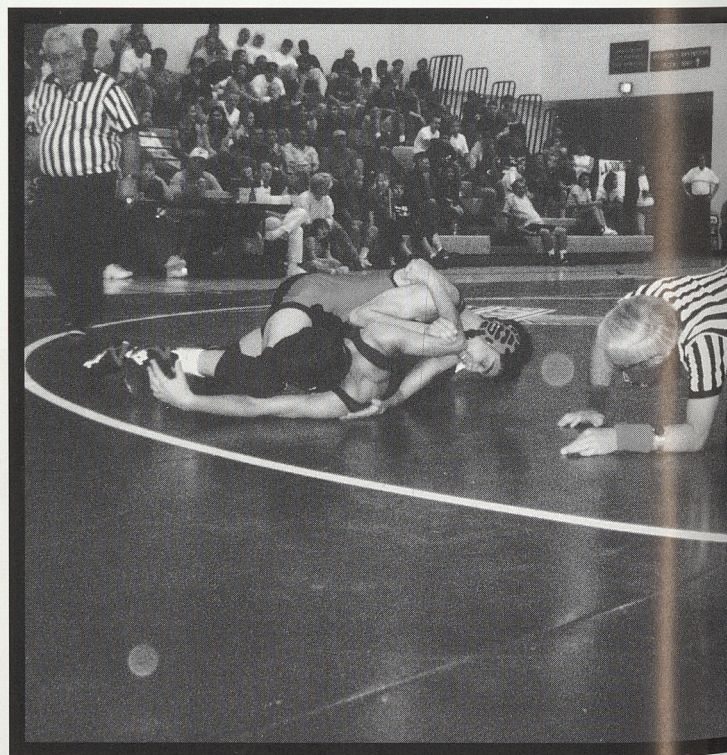

Woman Warrior

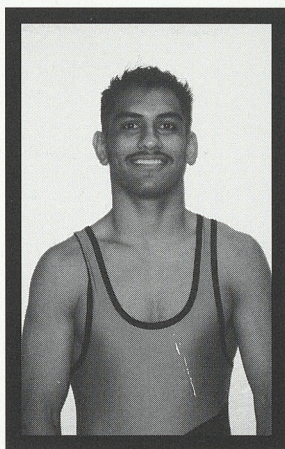

(Above): Demonstrating that women are certainly not the weaker sex is frosh phenom Gina Giacopuzzi. Shown here at the DVL tournament, Gina pinned her Palm Desert opponent three times.

Hard Pressed

(Right): Working his opponent at a match against LaQuinta is junior Enrique Solís. Though he didn't quite pin his rival, Enrique did go on to win the match.

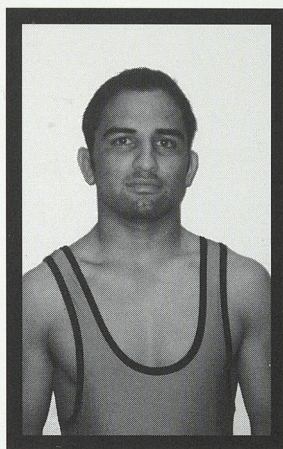

“Winning is only the Final step.” - William Pellum

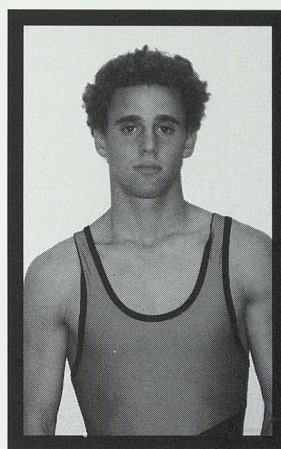

David De La Rosa
DVL Champ: 140

“Wrestling is the only sport that prepares you for life.”

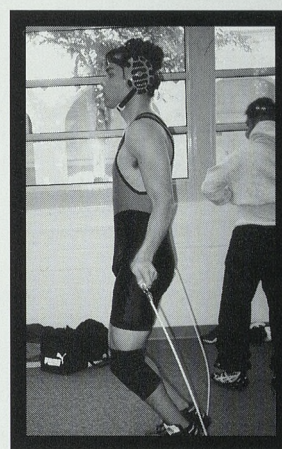

Mike De La Rosa
137 Weight Class

“There are 100 things I hate about wrestling, but the one thing I like about wrestling is fighting the opponent for six minutes.

Drew Uhlhorn
125 Weight Class

“Girls play volleyball. Boys play basketball. But MEN wrestle.”

Richard Torres
171 Weight Class

“Wrestling is basically a six minute fight against rival schools. Winning is only the final step in a series of challenges you face in preparing your self for competition.”

"Hole"-y Smokes!!

Trying to make a difficult putt is young superstar Nathan Norman (9).

Hard Work and Determination

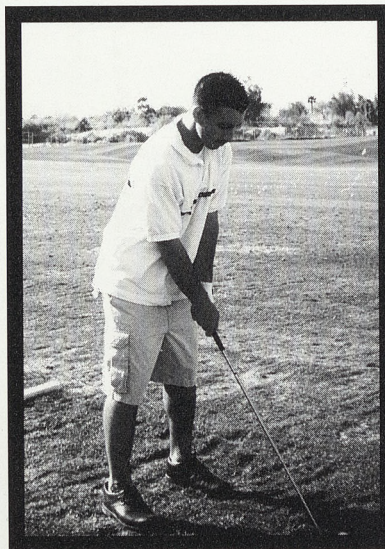

Keeping his head down and his eyes on the ball, Jacob Yousef (11) is sure to make the putt.

"To say that I have been on this team for four years and loved every minute of it would be an understatement. From tryouts my freshman year to the end of my senior year, this team has given me more memories than I can count; from the van rides, to the card games, to the Del Scorcho hot sauce. Records were broken, great shots were made, and through it all, the definition of a team changed. The team became more of a family, a tight-knit group of kids that seemed more like cousins instead of teammates. This year was no exception. With graduating seniors such as myself, Jesse D'Anna, and Matt "Bighead" White, we leave knowing that the tradition of excellence will be carried on by our great coach Mr. Jones, and future superstars Chris Hyso, Christian "Shamrock" Costa, Jason Emery, Reiji Kodama, Jacob Yousef, John Dahlin, Nathan Norman, and Chris Benedette. To all of you, I wish you good luck next year. Thanks for the memories and keep it on the short grass.

- Joshua Lafleur (12)

Going "Fore" the Green

The Heart of the Matter

Instructing Reiji Kadama (11) on his swing is the experienced coach Mr. Jones.

Like his teammates, senior Josh Lafleur strives to better his stroke.

Rollin' With My Homies

Before riding onto the golf course, Christian Costa (11), Josh Lafleur (12), Chris Hyso (11), and Matt White (12) stop for a Kodak moment.

The Golfer Squat

Reading the green is junior Jason Emery.

Poise

(Center): Concentration, patience, and Kate Moynihan (10) are one as she readies to strike the ball.

The Leading Player

Lining up for a big drive is big hitter Latoya Middleton (11). With her muscular frame and exceptional finesse, Latoya is well on her way to becoming one of the leading league players.

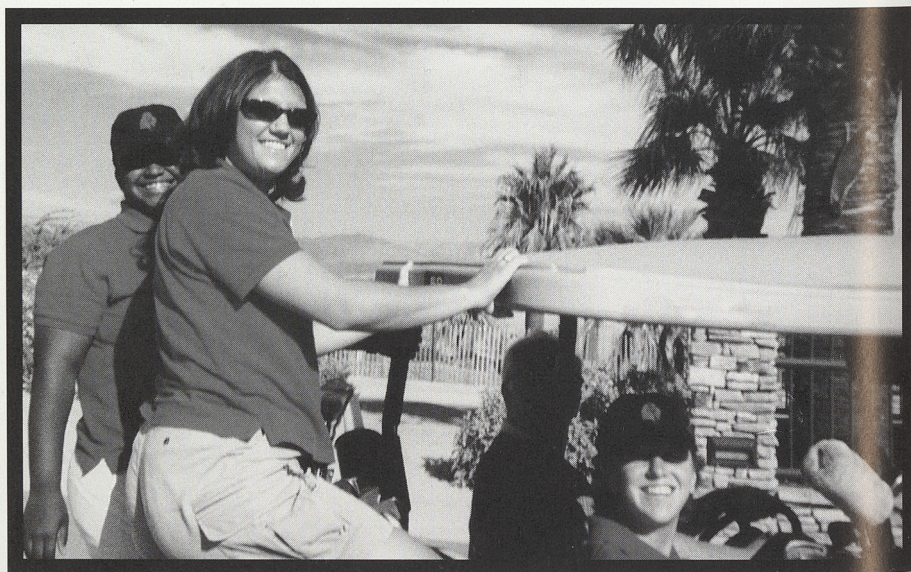

Winding Up

Squaring her shoulders and widening her swing is Monica Lima (12). Monica is one of the better iron players on the team.

Ride Away

Shining brightly in the desert sun are Monica Lima (12), Latoya Middleton (11), and Kate Moynihan (10).

Power Hit

Holding the #1 spot on the boys tennis team is a tough job, but with his powerful hits, Cameron Nazemi (12) can conquer almost anything.

Lose Something?

Not willing to give up his game is David Barton (12). With a goofy grin and a hard working attitude, this guy can't lose.

Laughing the Day Away

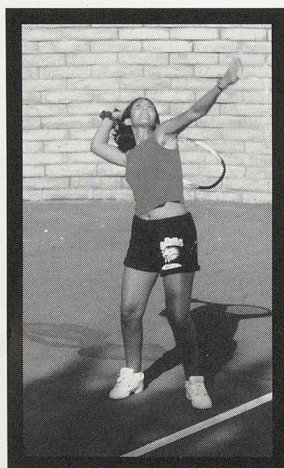

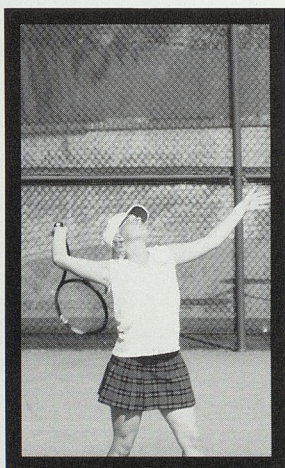

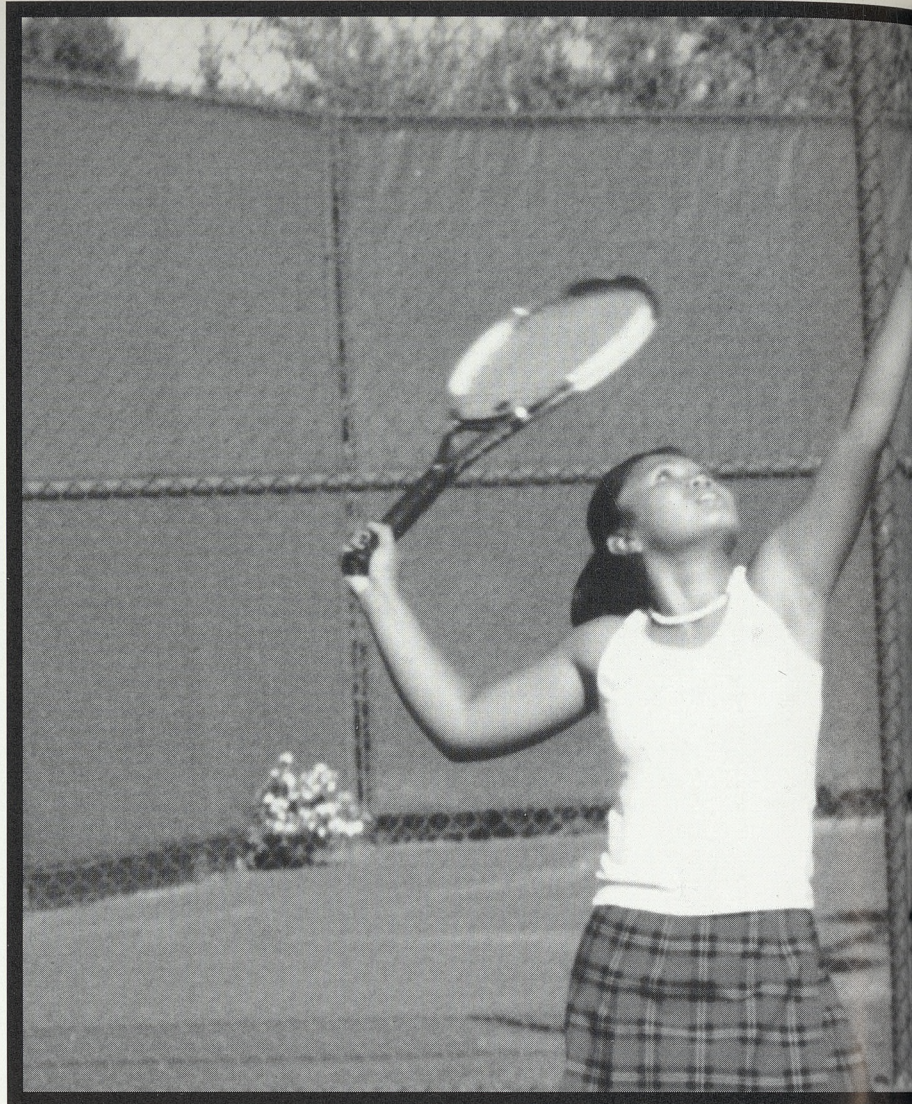

For most, tennis is a serious game. Jon Chuan (11) is known to contradict this. You can tell by how much fun he's having.

The Five Senses

Listening to the wind and watching for the ball is Ryan Bloomer (9). Ryan always concentrates as he wins another match.

YOU'RE OUT!

Big Smiles

Smiling big for the camera with oranges in their mouths are Becky Avery (12), Holly Gardner (11), Christina Mendez (11), and Lorena Macias (11), along with Ashley Ball (10) and Chuckie "the waterboy."

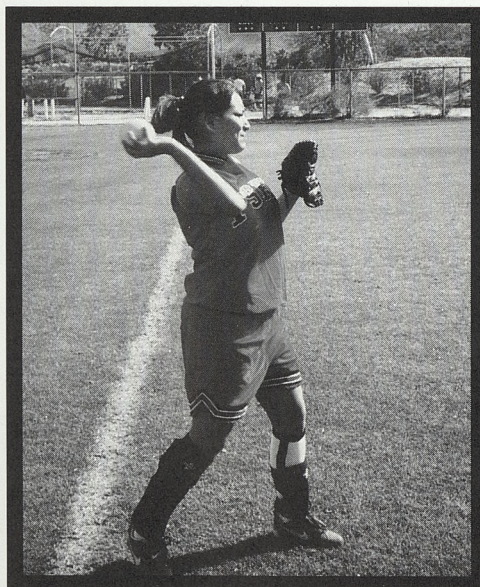

Being your last year on the team, what will you remember the most?

"Although we didn't win many games in my 4-year career, the people I've met and the memories we've shared will never be forgotten. My favorite part that will be with me for the rest of my life was the impact Amber and Ashley Ball had on making me a better ball player and a better person. I leave behind the fun that we've shared together and hope that they can find someone they can enjoy yelling at as much as they did me. I love you girls!"
-Kara Kleindienst (12)

Post-Victory Party

Celebrating their first victory of the season is the girls varsity softball team: Cindy Reinhart (10), Becky Avery (12), Holly Gardner (11), Christina Mendez (11), Ashleigh Mickles (11), Danyel Grandmain (12), Mary Rose (11), Kelley Ross (12), Chuckie "the Waterboy" (12), Coach Brown, Melissa Martinez (11), Ashley Ball (10), Lorena Macias (11), Nikki Hale (12), Amber Ball (10), and Coach David Angus.

Toss It To Me

Pre-game Ritual

For good luck and encouragement before every game, the girls huddle up and chant their cheer: "GOOO INDIANS!!!!"

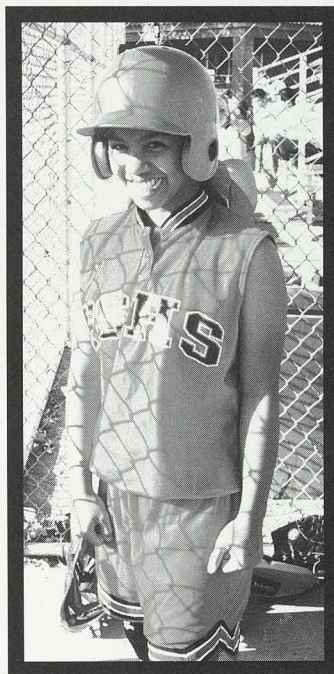

Take Me Out To The Ball Game

Concentrated Ashleigh Micklis (11) keeps focused on the ball, while catcher Melissa Martinez (11) sits in perfect position.

Batter Up

Stepping up to the plate to hit a home run is Mary Rose (11).

SOFTBALL...

Picture this:

In the final inning, as the Indians take the field, they hustle to get "3 up, 3 down!" The pitcher makes her move and quickly strikes out the 1st batter, and then the 3rd. The crowd goes wild! The Indians have just won their second game!!

This is how our season started. After polishing batting techniques and fielding mechanics, DVL was looking more promising than ever. Despite the minor scrapes and bruises, varsity softball was taking their game to a new level. With 14 girls on the team, fashion was becoming a minor concern. From band-aids to bandanas, it was time to take off the mini-skirts and play in shorts and shirts; put down the barbie dolls, and grab our bats and balls. We were playing like girls and enjoying every glorious minute of it.
